D. OLD BUSINESS

1. ¡Viva Tualatin! Event Recap and Discussion

Staff, Julie Ludemann, reported that attendance at the September 14 Viva Tualatin event was estimated at 1,500 people. Chair, Buck Braden would have liked to have seen more art vendors, and more art integrated into the event. Brett Hamilton requested that staff reach out to former ArtSplash artists to find out why they did not apply as a Viva Tualatin artist. Chair, Buck Braden mentioned that the music at the event was incredible.

2. Field Trip Recap and Discussion

Staff, Ross Hoover, updated the committee on the timeline for improvements and repairs to the fountain at Tualatin Commons, with the goal to have all work complete by next summer, unless there are delays with permitting. Public outreach on the theme for the fountain was conducted at Viva Tualatin, with water systems/watershed as the winning theme. The committee brainstormed ideas for the incorporation of art into the concrete surface of the fountain. Ideas included a spiral pattern using parts of the water feature, and showing local waterfalls/water patterns, or using raised or indented patterns to indicate water draining to the ocean (global scale). The committee also discussed other projects identified during the field trip, including the Browns Ferry Event Feasibility Study, as well as identified potential future improvements to Atfalati Park.

E. NEW BUSINESS

1. Parks & Master Plan Project Prioritization

Staff, Ross Hoover, updated the committee on the master plan project prioritization presentation to Tualatin City Council. Funding options were discussed.

2. Commons Fountain Project

This topic was discussed at length under Old Business.

3. Future Projects Planning

Staff, Julie Ludemann, reported that there is approximately $12,000 in this year's budget for art projects as identified by the Committee. Several ideas were discussed, including additional storm drain art, testing out hydrophobic paint at several locations throughout the City, a mural (or murals), utility box wraps, and steel art benches.

F. COMMUNICATIONS FROM COMMITTEE MEMBERS

TAAC Member Dawn Upton suggested that committee members visit the Albina Co. property on SW Myslony St. to view the metal sculptures in consideration of an Arts Enhancement Award. Chair, Buck Braden mentioned the murals inside La Isla Bonita.

F. ADJOURNMENT

Meeting was adjourned at 8:32pm
