

City of Tualatin

The Tualatin River Greenway Trail Project

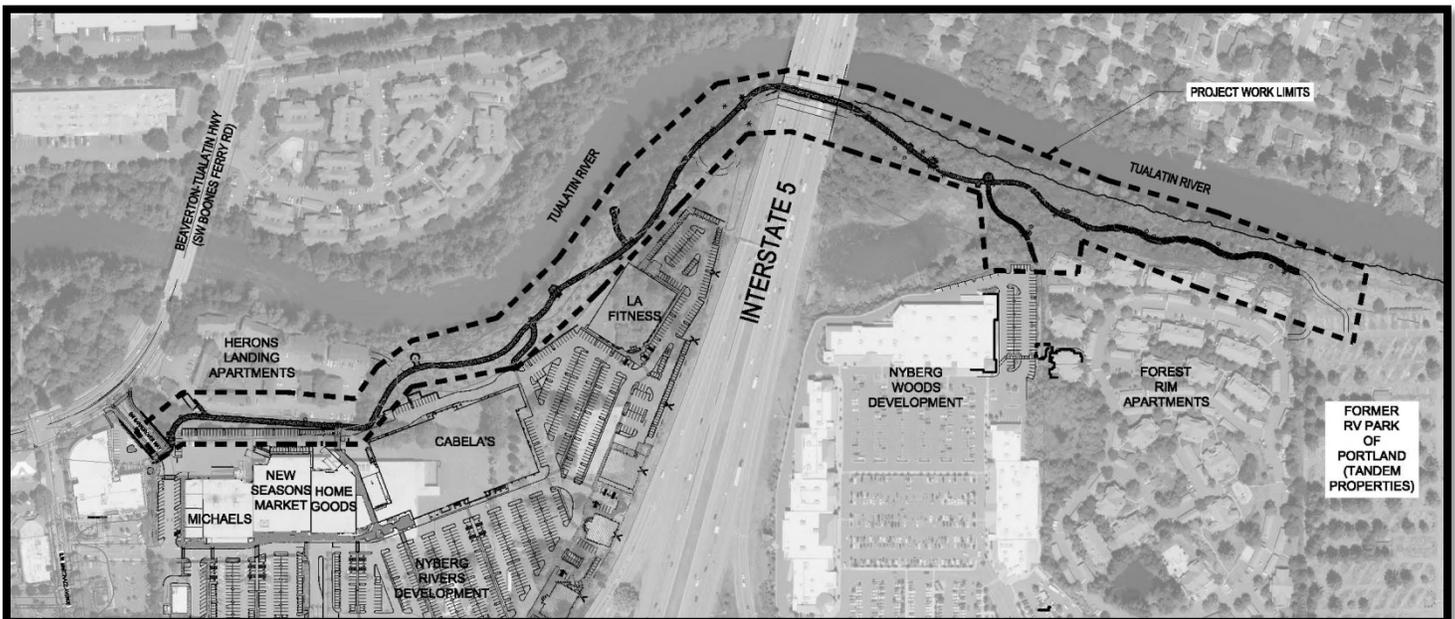

The Tualatin River Greenway Trail project connects people with nature, promotes public health and well-being and provides safe recreation and active transportation opportunities between residential and commercial areas, parks, the library and other public facilities.

Trail users will experience an Ice Age Discovery Trail- a walk through time exploring the transition of the Ice Age and cataclysmic Ice Age Floods, extinction of Ice Age mammals and emergence of Paleo-Indians and early settlers in the Tualatin and Willamette valleys.

Construction began July 16, 2015 and will continue into the fall of 2015. The trail will open in the winter of 2015/2016.

This ¾ mile segment of the Tualatin River Greenway Trail starts at Barngrover Way next to the Tualatin Public Library along the Tualatin River, under I-5 to the old RV of Portland site on Nyberg Lane.

QUESTIONS OR COMMENTS?

If you have questions, comments or concerns about this project please contact Community Services Director Paul Hennon at 503-691-3060 or phennon@ci.tualatin.or.us. For more information and updates check out our project webpage <http://www.tualatinoregon.gov/communityservices/tualatin-river-greenway-trail-gap-completion-project>.

CONSTRUCTION NOTICE

Construction activities will be visible this summer and fall near:

- Barngrover Way (near the Tualatin Public Library)
- Heron's Landing Apartments
- Nyberg Rivers Shopping Center
- Nyberg Woods Shopping Center
- Forest Rim Apartments
- Stone's Throw Apartments

Residents and tenants in these locations will see and may hear activities happening between their locations and the Tualatin River this summer and fall. Construction access and storage of materials will take place at the old RV of Portland site on Nyberg Lane and off Barngrover Way behind New Seasons. Construction hours are 7:00 am to 6:00 pm daily. From time to time there may be short construction delays in the area.

