Sara's Corner

We are thrilled to be back at the new & improved Juanita Pohl Center after a temporary closure for some interior upgrades! These improvements were made with our older adult community in mind, with a special focus on accessibility, comfort, and creating a more modern, inviting space for all.

To enhance ADA access, we've installed new automatic sliding front doors and reconfigured the bathroom stalls to allow for easier navigation. Inside, you'll notice refreshed spaces featuring new LED lighting and a fresh coat of paint, bringing a clean, vibrant feel throughout the building.

We are excited for everyone to experience these updates firsthand and to gather together again for programs, activities, special events, lunch, and more! Welcome back to the Juanita Pohl Center!

Insects and Music

Who would have thought that insects and music go together? Insects have inspired musical pieces both old and new. And band names? We'll forgive the Beatles for the misspelling. One insect may have been largely responsible for the development of rock-and-roll music. Dr. Rob Wiedenmann will present these and other ways insects have contributed to the musical world.

AI SYMPOSIUM

What is AI? How do you use it? Is it good, bad, neutral? Learn about the highs, lows and everything in-between at this full-day symposium on Artificial Intelligence from basics to advanced, from how to avoid scams to how to use it to improve your life.

Friday, June 26 | 10am-3:30pm
$15 (includes catered lunch)

10am: AI Scams & Schemes: Can You Trust What You See and Hear? This eye-opening session will explore the growing world of deepfakes, voice cloning, and AI-driven scams — and how to protect yourself from being fooled. You'll learn how scammers use these powerful tools to impersonate voices, create fake videos, and trick people into handing over money or information. Mike Lannen, founder of AI Education firm, Eternity, will break it all down in plain language and show you exactly what to look (and listen) for.

12pm: Lunch (provided by Kam & Kam)

1pm: AI for Everyday Life: Meal Planning, Trips, and More Made Easy! In this upbeat and practical session, you'll discover how artificial intelligence can make everyday life easier and more enjoyable. From finding the perfect recipe based on what's in your fridge, to building a travel itinerary or sending birthday invites, AI can help with it all. Mike Lannen of AI Education firm, Eternity, will show you easy ways to use these tools — no tech background needed.

2:30pm: Artificial Intelligence: The Basics Still have questions about very basics of AI? This presentation provides a simple introduction to AI, explaining what it is, how it works, and where it appears in everyday life. It also highlights practical tips for identifying AI content, avoiding pitfalls like scams, and understanding the potential benefits and challenges AI brings to the future. Provided by Bates Russell, City of Tualatin of Information Services Director.
